COUNTY RELIEF CASE WORKERS ARE DISMISSED

New Retrenchment Program Begun as State Sets Up Expense Limit.

4 LEFT IN OFFICE STAFF

All Personal Contacts With Relief Clients Discontinued, Director Reports.

The Marion county relief administration began a drastic retrenchment program today in its efforts to comply with the state relief law by keeping administrative expenses down to five per cent of the total funds expended monthly for relief purposes.

Four case workers and a case supervisor were dismissed today because of lack of funds with which to pay their salaries. Only four persons remain on the relief staff—Director John Abel and other employes in the accounting department.

Last month county commissioners spent $179 more than the maximum five per cent for administrative purposes and learned yesterday, in a conference with the state relief commission in Columbus, that they will have to pay this amount back into the county relief coffers before the April grant of state funds is made to Marion county. Commissioner J. O. Wess, who with Commissioner Leo J. Cusic and C. E. Willoughby, clerk of the board, attended the Columbus conference, said today the $179 will have to be transferred immediately to the relief fund from some other county fund. From where this will come has not yet been determined, he added.

New Contact Method

Director John Abel presented a picture of the county relief picture as it stands today. Personal and telephone contacts between the relief office and relief clients are to be discontinued and in the future the clients will communicate with the office by mail or notes left in the front hall of the relief headquarters building on South Prospect street. Indications are that no new relief cases will be taken during the remainder of this month because of limited funds. The policy of administering relief to be pursued after April has not yet been worked out.

"It is impossible to administer relief properly on five per cent of the total relief funds," Mr. Abel declared. He said this is especially true since the government, on May 1, will discontinue paying salaries and rent for relief headquarters and a portion of the salaries of the administrative staff. The maximum amount allowed for administrative purposes during April aggregates about $400 and in May it must be reduced to about $350, Mr. Abel pointed out. If the five per cent maximum expenditure is exceeded the state relief commission will withhold the county's grant of state money.

The state grant for relief in April amounts to $6,580 and this, together with county bond money, brings to $8,200 the amount available for relief this month. The $6,550 is being held up until county commissioners replace the $179 overspent last month.

Mr. Abel said relief clients will, in the future, contact his office by leaving notes in a special box in the front hall at relief headquarters. Telephone contacts can not be made because we will have no one to answer the phones and give desired information, he said.

REALTY TAX TIME EXTENDED 10 DAYS

Announcement of New Deadline Announced by County Treasurer.

The deadline in the current real estate tax collection period in Marion county was extended to April 25 today by County Treasurer Homer D. Cole. The period was to have expired today.

The time was extended 10 days because of the delay in receiving federal housing relief money from the government, which is paying the taxes on some property owned by relief clients, Mr. Cole said.

The treasurer also announced today that pike taxes are due and collectable from rural residents in the current real estate collection. The taxes became due when the Armbruster bill was declared unconstitutional. The bill provided that road taxes be paid out of automobile tag money.

The treasurer reported that the collection of taxes to date neared the $400,000 mark. He is charged with the collection of $1,878,669.71 in current taxes, delinquencies and special assessments on the duplicate for the tax year 1935.

PWA TO INCLUDE FLOOD CONTROL

Roosevelt Says River Projects Will Be Made Part of $500,000,000 Works Program.

CLAIMS JOBS MAIN ISSUE

Maine and Florida Jobs Dropped but May Be Taken Up Later in Modified Form.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—President Roosevelt said today that congressional disapproval had closed the door to further funds for the Passamaquoddy power project in Maine and the Florida ship canal, but he intimated modified plans for both may be submitted to Capitol Hill.

At the same time, the President explained to his press conference that flood control work is proposed to be included in the regular annual public works program of $500,000,000 included in his January budget estimates.

Asked about moves in congress for special appropriations for flood control, the President said he was not acquainted with these.

Asked whether, if a billion dollars of worthy projects were found for flood control and public works, he would approve such a program, Mr. Roosevelt replied he would do so if it put people to work right away.

Discussing the works program as a whole, the President remarked that there was a lot of loose thinking and writing about it. He called attention to a statement yesterday by the public works administration which he said had been interpreted by some as showing that expenditure of the PWA funds had amounted to $741 a man employed.

Mr. Roosevelt termed such a statement as careless. He said PWA allotments were only 30 per cent of the total cost of PWA projects and if the full 100 per cent of the money spent on these were taken into consideration it wound amount to an expenditure of about $2,000 a man.

Also, he said that PWA projects cost about twice as much, necessarily as works progress jobs because of the higher cost for materials and condemnation of property.

TITTERTON MURDER BAFFLES POLICE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—Despite continued efforts of detectives to trace a meager collection of clues to the slayer of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton, officials said today that progress in solving the baffling mystery was at a virtual impasse.

"We are no further in this case than we were Friday night," said Assistant District Attorney William F. O'Rourke. "We have no suspect and have no good leads."

The detectives, however, still are hopeful of finding the man who assaulted the attractive 34-year-old woman and choked her to death at her Beekman place apartment last Friday.

Employes contended insufficient notice of an extra shift was given. Thomas Gillis, Iron & Tin Plate association representative, was expected to arrive from Pittsburgh.

NEW HOSPITAL PLAN OPPOSED BY PHYSICIANS

Academy of Medicine Asks That Present Managerial System Be Maintained.

MEET MAYOR AND COUNCIL

Smith, Declaring New Program Needed, Says It Will Be Carried Out.

Changes in management of the Marion City hospital voted by council Monday night on the recommendation of Mayor F. C. Smith met with opposition from the medical profession last night in a special meeting of the Marion County Academy of Medicine at the hospital.

The academy passed a resolution asking Mayor Smith, who also is a member of the academy, to use his influence with city council to have it repeal its action in which the positions of superintendent-manager and supervisor of nurses were abolished to be replaced by a superintendent in charge of both phases of the hospital operation.

The action of the academy, however, will not alter the plan to make the changes in the hospital management, Mayor Smith stated. Speaking on the resolution before the vote was taken the mayor told the physicians that he would not use his influence to have council repeal its action, and when questioned after the meeting he declared the resolution would not cause him to change his plans for what he considered improvements at the hospital.

Called Session

The meeting was called for the express purpose of considering the proposed hospital changes in which Joe E. Grundy, superintendent-manager, and Miss Carmelita O'Donnell, supervisor of nurses, will be relieved of their duties through abolition of their positions. The changes were made by council at a meeting Monday night. At the same time council created the position of superintendent and Service-Safety Director John V. Ruth was instructed by Mayor Smith to employ Miss Margaret R. Parker, formerly of South Bend, Ind., to fill the post.

The change is to be made May 15, giving 30-day notices to Mr. Grundy and Miss O'Donnell. Mayor Smith said at the meeting last night that Miss O'Donnell probably would be retained at the hospital in some other capacity.

The resolution adopted by the academy was presented by Dr. J. G. McNamara. It provided "that a committee of five or more be appointed to request the honorable mayor of the city of Marion to use his influence to have the council repeal the ordinance in regard to the change in personnel of the Marion city hospital which we learned from reading today's issue of The Marion Star."

Members of council were asked by the academy officers to attend the meeting. W. M. Fahian, D. R. Biggert, Harry D. Cahill, Clarence Hart and M. Basil Williams were there.

Dr. C. G. Smith, president of the academy, who presided at the meeting, today announced the members of the committee named in compliance with the resolution. They are Dr. J. G. McNamara, Dr. E. L. Brady, Dr. H. K. Mouser, Dr. S. W. Mattox, Dr. F. V. Murphy, Dr. J. A. Dodd and Dr. John A. McNamara.

Twenty-four members of the academy were present. When the vote on the resolution was taken 21 were favorable, two were opposed and one did not vote. Mayor Smith and his son, Dr. Frederick G. Smith, cast the two negative votes.

Dissatisfaction Voiced.

Before the vote was taken Mayor Smith defended his action, saying he was convinced the change was for the best interests of the hospital. Several other physicians expressed the opinion that a majority of the doctors practicing at the hospital were favorable to the pres-

FORMER GOV. WHITE WEDS IN COLUMBUS

Bride and Groom Board Plane for California To Start Round-the-World Cruise.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—George White, former governor of Ohio, and Mrs. Agnes Hofman Baldwin of Columbus were married today at the suburban Rocky Fork Country club.

They departed soon after a wedding breakfast with members of their immediate families, by airplane, for California, where they will board an around-the-world cruise ship.

They will reside following their return to Ohio at Marietta.

White, now 68 years old, served two terms as Democratic governor, from 1931 to 1935. He was formerly a congressman from the 15th Ohio district, and in 1932 was chairman of the Democratic national committee.

His bride is the widow of the late Gaylord Baldwin. She claimed the distinction of being the only woman ever presented at the court of St. James, having been sponsored by Charles G. Dawes when he was [illegible] Great Britain.

PROBE REVEALS TALMADGE AID

Lobby Quiz Witness Says Raskob and Du Pont Each Gave Georgians $5,000.

Tells Committee He Distributed Pictures of Mrs. Roosevelt Escorted by 2 Negroes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — The senate lobby committee was told today that John J. Raskob and Pierre S. duPont contributed $5,000 each for the anti-new deal mid-winter convention of southern Democrats, at Macon, Ga.

Vance Muse of Houston, Tex., general manager of the southern committee to uphold the Constitution—a group which collaborated with Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia in holding the convention—was the witness.

Tells of Pictures

He testified also that he had circulated in the south pictures of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the company of two Negro escorts.

Raskob is a former chairman of the Democratic national committee. Du Pont is a prominent contributor to the American Liberty league.

"I saw Mr. Raskob on the 80th floor of the Empire State building in New York and I saw Mr. du Pont at Wilmington," Muse testified, standing as he talked.

He said the money was contributed last December.

"We were interested in the Macon meeting and I asked those two men to help us," Muse said.

He said he told them personally "absolutely" what he wanted the money for.

He added Talmadge "didn't know" the source of the money.

"I don't think I told him," he went on.

Meanwhile chief interest in the capital centered on the senate's verdict in the impeachment trial of Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter of Florida.

After deliberations, the senate planned to ballot on the accusations, including charges that Ritter granted an "excessive" receivership fee to a former law partner and "corruptly" benefitted from it to the extent of $4,500.

A two-thirds vote is necessary for conviction, which would mean that the judge would be banished from the bench.

A senate campaign funds investigating committee, named by Vice President Garner yesterday, planned to begin its inquiry soon. The scope of the committee's powers is broader this year than in past elections. It has the added task, imposed on it by the senate, of looking into accusations of politics in relief.

TOWNSEND MAN LEADS AT POLLS

Pension Plan Advocate Ahead in Democratic Senatorial Contest in Nebraska.

HAS 4,000 VOTE MARGIN

Write-In Campaign for Sen. George W. Norris Meets with Meagre Response.

By The Associated Press

LINCOLN, Nebr., April 15—An upset victory in the Nebraska Democratic race for the U. S. senatorial nomination was in sight today for former Rep. Terry Carpenter, a Townsend pension plan advocate.

With 1,417 of 2,025 precincts tabulated, he led J. C. Quigley, chairman of the Democratic state committee, by 4,000 votes. Quigley was not out of the running, but Carpenter seemed to hold the margin.

Norris Write-in Futile

Returns indicated no general response to a last minute campaign to write-in the name of Sen. George W. Norris, veteran Republican independent for reelection on both party tickets. In the Democratic primary 385 votes were recorded for him and in the Republican 628.

Observers were in doubt about the meaning of the preferential vote for a Republican nominee for President. Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho, the only candidate to have his name on the ballot, polled 41,717 votes in 1,284 precincts. Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas drew 9,147 write-in votes, Col. Frank Knox of Chicago 128 and Herbert Hoover 200.

Nebraska's 14 delegates to each of the national conventions will be uninstructed, however.

Roosevelt Unopposed

President Roosevelt was unopposed in the Democratic primary and the Democratic delegate candidates all ran on new deal platforms.

Robert G. Simmons, the Republican senatorial nominee two years ago, won the G. O. P. nomination again this year, defeating his nearest rivals about 4 to 1.

Sen. Edward R. Burke had virtually a 4,000 vote lead in the tight three-cornered race for Democratic national committeeman.

Cochran vs. Griswold

Gov. R. L. Cochran, Democrat, and Dwight Griswold again were nominated to meet in the general gubernatorial election in November. Griswold twice has been the G. O. P. nominee for governor.

Three of Nebraska's congressmen—Karl Stefan, Republican, C. G. Binderup, Democrat and Harry B. Coffee, Democrat—were nominated without opposition but Henry C. Luckey, Democrat, had a stiff fusile to lead Foster May, radio announcer. Mrs. Mabel Gillespie of Gretna reduced an early lead held by Charles F. McLaughlin, Democrat.

ADVANCE AUTO FUND DISTRIBUTION MADE

Marion County To Get $36,792 in Total Payments of Nearly $7,000,000.

Marion and other nearby counties today shared in an advance of almost $7,000,000 in automobile license fee funds paid to counties and political sub-divisions by Frank West, state registrar of motor vehicles, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus.

Marion city is to receive $8,750 and Marion county $36,782. Amounts ordered for other nearby counties follow, Crawford $29,016, Delaware $22,320, Morrow $11,952, Hardin $23,328 and Union $16,992.

Checks for the funds, including $6,006,960 paid on the basis of 47 per cent of total funds to counties and 25 per cent to their political sub-divisions, and equalization fees of $5,000 for each county, totaling $440,000 were prepared for mailing.

West said he ordered the advance distribution because many counties and cities were running low on funds. The new license law, which made April 1 the deadline for new plates, postponed the usual fund distribution by three months. The checks were the first to be mailed from 1936 license plate sales.

He said distributions of funds would continue monthly throughout the year, as license plate fees accumulated. Almost $500,000 in 1935 collections remain to be distributed, he said, as soon as all records are completed.

Youth Makes Headlines, Mixing Joy and Sorrow

Children wrote the headlines of many news stories today—stories of humor and pathos, joy and sorrow.

At Salem, Mass., Abigail Adams, two years old and not caring much, was ordered by Special Master U. Weston Froend of Gloucester to turn back to her grandmother, Mrs. Abbie T. Adams, a house decided to her when Mrs. Adams feared she was about to die. Abigail probably will get it again some day.

NEW TRIALS DENIED BRADEN, WATKINS

Attorneys for Men Convicted of Bennett Slaying, Prepare for Appeal.

Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young late yesterday overruled motions for new trials in the first degree murder cases of Othal Watkins, 45, and Grover Braden, 36, found guilty by juries of the slaying of James F. Bennett in an attempted holdup on Dec. 12, 1931.

The next step in the fight to save Watkins and Braden from mandatory life sentences in the Ohio penitentiary will be an appeal to the Third district court of appeals, Homer E. Johnson, one of their attorneys, said today. Petitions in error will be filed with the higher court next week after defense attorneys approve the judge's entry overruling their motions, Mr. Johnson said.

Watkins and Braden are expected to be sentenced after the entry is approved this week. Arguments from defense attorneys Johnson and W. P. Moloney supporting their motions and arguments presented by Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel for the state were heard in common pleas court three weeks ago. The attorneys later submitted briefs to Judge Young citing legal authority in support of their arguments.

Principal charges voiced by the defense are that the court erred during the trials in permitting Cyre Bennett, aged brother of the slain man, to testify when he has been adjudged insane and has been an inmate of the Lima state hospital for the criminally insane since shortly after the murder; that the jury misconstrued the charge of the court as to failure of Watkins to take the stand during his trial, and that the method employed and the tactics pursued in impaneling the jury in the Braden case were in direct violation of the defendant's rights under the Ohio constitution.

HORNER PICKED BY DEMOCRATS

Governor Wins Renomination Against Bundesen Who Had Chicago Mayor's Backing.

IDAHOAN WINS DOWNSTATE

Metropolis and Northern Counties Pile Up Huge Lead for Newspaper Publisher.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 15—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher contesting with Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho for the Republican presidential preferment vote in Illinois, and Gov. Henry Horner, seeking a return to office, stood apparently victorious today on the mountain of ballots cast yesterday in one of the state's most dramatic primaries.

Piling up an early lead in Chicago, Col. Knox led Borah by about 80,409 votes in the first test of strength between the two G. O. P. presidential aspirants. Borah was stronger than the Chicagoan in the 101 downstate counties.

After 5,241 of the state's 7,426 precincts were in Knox had 331,393 votes to 281,584 for Borah. The vote was advisory only to the 50 delegates elected yesterday, who with seven others to be named later will represent Illinois at the June national G. O. P. convention.

Overcoming an early Cook county lead by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago health commissioner, supported by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and National Committeeman Patrick Nash of Chicago, Gov. Horner rolled up a tremendous vote downstate in the Democratic gubernatorial primary which led his supporters to claim he would outdistance his rival by between 80,000 and 100,000.

Returns from 5,063 precincts, more than two thirds of the 7,426 in Illinois, gave Horner 529,043; Bundesen 317,472.

Of all the primary victories, the most sensational was that of the Democratic party in Illinois, which cast a greater primary vote than ever before in the state's history, rolling up a total estimated at 1,500,000.

Marks 28 Per Cent Gain

This would represent a 28 per cent gain since the 1934 primaries. Of the projected total, it was estimated a round million Democratic votes were cast in Chicago, and a half million downstate.

Edward A. Hayes, chairman of the Knox-for-President committee, declared Knox had been favored in a "decisive" manner. "The Illinois candidate," he said, has taken a long stride toward the nomination." Former Sen. George Moses of New Hampshire estimated Knox now had substantially 180 delegates to the G. O. P. national convention, including Illinois' group.

It was indicated Democrats had outvoted Republicans two to one in the statewide primary. In the only Cook county precincts where a comparison was available, President Roosevelt, unopposed in the Democratic preferment primary, outpolled Borah and Knox combined by a 3 to 1 margin.

Attracted by Dispute

But G. O. P. leaders asserted many Republicans had voted in the Democratic primary to get into the fight between Horner and Bundesen.

Horner's renomination means the influence of Kelly and Nash will be greatly curtailed. Both fought Horner bitterly in a campaign that split the party. Kelly pictured Horner as "too weak" to team with Roosevelt in the November election. A triumph for the governor would leave a breach to be healed in party ranks before fall.

C. Wayland Brooks, former Chicago prosecutor, was the G. O. P. nominee for governor on the basis of incomplete returns. He outdistanced his closest rival in a seven-man race, former Gov. Len Small, by 150,000 votes.

Sen. James Hamilton Lewis was renominated by the Democrats over two nominal opponents, one of them a Chicago business woman, Miss Ruth McNamara.

In the November election he will face former Sen. Otis F. Glenn, nominated by a two to one margin over former Rep. William E. Hull in the Republican senatorial race.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R. DEBT IS INCREASED

Shareholders Approve Proposed $75,000,000 Financing, Stock Vote April 28.

PHILADELPHIA April 15 — Pennsylvania railroad stockholders unanimously authorized a proposed increase of $75,000,000 in the company's indebtedness at the annual meeting yesterday.

Resolutions adopted provided for a stock vote on April 28.

A J County financial vice president in his report stressed the fact the railroad has $2.74 of assets for every dollar of outstanding funded debt held by the public That he said surely is a factor of great safety.

He defended the free door to door collection and delivery service and deplored its suspension by the interstate commerce commission. Referring to the commission's order cutting passenger fares to 2 cents a mile County said he hoped for further consideration on that order also The company proposes an 18 month trial fare of 2½ cents a mile.

NEW DEMOCRAT GROUP FORMED

Party Members Organize in Western Part of County; Other Sections To Follow.

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, O., April 15—The Marion County Western Division Democratic committee, the first of four organizations to be formed in Marion county, was organized last night by Democratic residents of Montgomery, Big Island, Bowling Green and Green Camp townships, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Uncapher of Big Island township.

The organization was effected to further interests of the party in the western townships, organizing more closely the Democrats in the townships and to bring about a closer relationship between members of the party and the party's candidates. J. B. Swain, chairman of the membership drive committee of the Marion County Democratic club, presided as temporary chairman, and Dana G. Barber of Green Camp township served as secretary pro-tem.

Herbert Davis of Montgomery township was elected permanent chairman and Mrs. W. H. Uncapher, permanent secretary-treasurer. Committees appointed are: publicity, Dana G. Barber of Green Camp township, chairman, Clark Longshore of Montgomery township, Fred Schertzer of Big Island township; speakers, Frank Spicer of Bowling Green township, chairman, J. M. Lanius of Green Camp township, Mr. Schertzer, Guy Smith of Montgomery township; entertainment, Frank Oesterle of Big Island township, chairman, Mrs. Edna Knachel of Green Camp township, Mrs. Merle Kennedy of Big Island township, Miss Susie Raub of Montgomery township, Harry Snydar of Bowling Green township; refreshments, John T. Jones of Bowling Green township, chairman, Arthur Haberman of Green Camp township, W. H. Uncapher of Big Island township, Mrs. Grace Amstutz of Bowling Green township.

Arrangements were started for an old-fashioned Democratic rally of members of the four townships in June at the LaRue High school. The next meeting will be held Tuesday night, May 12, at 8 at the W. H. Uncapher home.

WHY YOU SHOULD NEVER CUT A CORN

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poison by paring them. Statistics show that many infections have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get some Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous. The pain promptly disappears and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint quickly eases such troubles as sore, tired, aching, burned or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably the reason for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.—Adv.

MOVE TO DELAY CUT IN RAIL RATE FOUGHT

Group Opposes Carriers' Demands for 18-Month Postponement of Slash.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Opposition to a move by eastern railroads to postpone the June 2 effective date of an interstate commerce commission order reducing passenger fares was expressed today by the National Association of Railroad and Utilities commissioners.

In an answer to the petition of eastern roads for an 18-month delay in applying the reduced rates, the association criticized a plan by the railroads to institute their own "experimental" fares for 18 months.

The ICC ordered basic coach fares reduced from 3.6 to 2 cents a mile. Chief effect of the order would fall on eastern roads because low fares already are in effect in the west and south.

Postponement of the commission rates and substitution of a 2.5 cent coach rate was asked by all major eastern carriers except the Baltimore & Ohio.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS LESS THIS YEAR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—State Highway Director John Jaster Jr. reported yesterday a sharp decrease in traffic accidents on state highways during the first three months of 1936 as compared with the corresponding period in 1935. Jaster's figures showed a total of 2,102 mishaps during the quarter last year as compared with 1,618 for 1936. The accidents caused 109 deaths for the period this year compared with 156 during the similar time in 1935.

CLEVELAND PRESSES ITS POLICE INQUIRY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., April 15—The county grand jury called 10 more witnesses today in its investigation of savings accumulated by Police Captain Louis J. Cadek. County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan said records show that Cadek built up savings accounts totaling $100,000 while his entire salary as a policeman for approximately 30 years was slightly less than $68,000.

NEW CAVEIN FEARED FOR TRAPPED TRIO

By The Associated Press

MOOSE RIVER, N. S., April 15—Fears of a fresh cavein of the Moose river gold mine hampered efforts by rescue workers to penetrate today the little-known shafts where three Toronto mining officials have been entombed since Easter Sunday.

Blocked at every turn in their attempts to enter the mine through old channels, volunteers dug frantically to open a new shaft while a squadron of motor lorries, bearing equipment, lumbered over the boggy road to this little settlement.

TRIO OF ARMY STAFFS MEET

British, French and Belgian Officers Decide on Measures in Event of Aggression.

By The Associated Press

The conference of the British, French and Belgian army general staffs was begun today in London, simultaneously with the start of negotiations for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian war, to decide on measures to insure against any unprovoked aggression.

Although the conversations between the general staffs were to be conducted in secret, the British government constantly had assured the public no new political affiliations would arise from their decisions.

While the military leaders assembled for their discussions, final tribute was being paid by the British empire to the late ambassador from Germany, Leopold von Hoesch, whose body was taken aboard a British warship bound for his homeland.

The peace talks of the League of Nations at Geneva presented a greater uncertainty as to the future course of European peace than did the problem of settlement of the Locarno crisis.

An Italian spokesman said the Fascist delegation of peace in east Africa had arrived without instructions from Premier Mussolini of settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The spokesman said the delegation had come to the conciliation session under the supervision of the league committee of 13 to agree upon the procedure for starting peace negotiations.

The Italian high command reported a new, important victory from the east African front, Marshal Pietro Badoglio telegraphed to Rome of the capture of Desaye, former field headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie.

BOMB BLAST FATAL TO 2 IN CALIFORNIA

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 15—The mystery of a "human bomb" explosion that killed a university professor and his wife in an automobile was cleared partly today by one of the two severely injured survivors.

Dr. William Daniel Moriarty, 59, professor of economics at the University of California, and his 55-year-old wife were killed last night by a bomb in the school man's own hands, officers were told.

Harley McCoy, insurance and mining man, whose car was shattered, gave Detective Lieutenants Elaroy Sanderson and George Hill an account of the rear-seat blast. McCoy and his companion, Miss Eleanor Thonis, were expected to recover.

ROOSEVELT DEMANDS CRITICIZED BY HOOVER

WASHINGTON, April 15—Political activity quickened today as a result of President Roosevelt's speech Monday before the Young Democrats of Maryland.

Former President Hoover declared Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion of a shorter work day as a means of increasing employment failed two years ago as an emergency measure.

Mr. Hoover set forth a five-point program to restore what he called "long-time confidence." He said:

"Reduce government expenses, balance the national budget, establish a real currency, stop these movements and threats of inflation, stop these other activities which destroy confidence in the future."

"Why not at least recognize that there is a relation between government policies and unemployment?" he asked. "Why not try to increase the number of jobs instead of dividing up the jobs which are?"

Sen. Black, Democrat of Alabama, advocate of a sharply limited, work-week, declared himself "thoroughly in sympathy" with Mr. Roosevelt's suggestions.

RUMORS OF FAVORED SLATE BRING DENIAL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—Francis W. Poulson, Democratic state chairman, denied today that a slate of candidates favored for nomination at the May 12 primary had been prepared by the state organization despite rumors circulated at the Jefferson day banquets at various places last night.

"We have religiously avoided any slate of candidates," Poulson said.

Gov. Martin L. Davey, who was listed as the gubernatorial candidate on the reported slate, was not available for comment.

BUSINESS ADVANCES IN FACE OF BAD NEWS

Ayres Points to Upswing Despite War, Floods, Cold and Uncertainty.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., April 15—Col. Leonard P. Ayres, widely known economist, said today in a monthly bulletin that business in the first quarter of 1936 "has done well in view of the adverse circumstances that have prevailed."

These circumstances, he summarized as "weather, water, war and uncertainty," listing them as severe winter weather, floods, "disquieting news" from Europe, Africa and Asia "and some of the legislating and investigating being carried forward by congress."

Ayres, Cleveland Trust Co. executive, said security markets continue to reflect prevailing confidence.

"Perhaps the natural forces of recovery are operating as vigorously as it is reasonable to expect them to," he observed, "but there are at least two factors in the general situation that are less than fully reassuring.

"One of them is, of course, the continuing large volume of unemployment. Just how large it is we do not know, but all careful estimates agree that the numbers of those out of work are distressingly large, and but slowly diminishing."

The other sobering fact about the progress of recovery "is that the increases in the volume of industrial production are no longer going forward as rapidly as" they were earlier in the recovery period."

FIRE IS DELIVERED TO CENTRAL STATION

Burning Car Driven to Engine House by Owner, Sol Freed.

City firemen answered two calls yesterday and this morning and extinguished another fire when it was delivered to their door early last evening.

The fire delivered to station No. 1 at 8:20 p. m., yesterday, was in the upholstering of an automobile owned by Sol Freed of 512 Vernon Heights boulevard. Mr. Freed first discovered the blaze while the car was parked near his residence. He quelled it with a bucket of water, but while driving uptown later, the blaze broke out the second time.

He drove to the Central fire station where firemen removed the seat cushion and extinguished the blaze. Damage to the car was estimated at $10.

Firemen from companies No. 1 and 2, answered a false alarm to box 92 at Cheney avenue and Osgood street, yesterday at 10:10 p. m.

A roof fire at the residence of H. Spears of 967 Senate street at 10:18 a. m. today was caused by sparks from the chimney. Firemen from company No. 2 extinguished the blaze. Damage was estimated at $5.

The meeting will be launched with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock and will be followed by lodge work.

HOSPITAL LEADERS TALK INSTALLMENTS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—The Ohio Hospital association convention had under consideration today a hospitalization installment plan for all parts of the country similar to the "budget" hospital service provided by 134 Cleveland organizations for 24,000 subscribers who pay two cents per day for a maximum of 21 days hospital service per year. The plan was proposed to the association by John R. Mannix, official of the University hospitals of Cleveland. The convention will end Thursday.

NEW DEAL SEEN SOCIALIST BENT

Taft Envisions Deplorable Results of Government Controlled Economy.

By The Associated Press

SALEM, O., April 15—Robert A. Taft, Republican "favorite son" presidential candidate, said in an address here last night that "the effort of the new deal is to substitute for the American business system a government-controlled economy."

"Such an economy," he said, "would lead inexorably to socialism."

Taft said that "if the government once begins to regulate any industry, it cannot do so effectively until it has regulated every detail of every business in that industry and every detail of the life of the individuals concerned in it."

There would be no stopping point short of a complete socialistic state if the price structure of the great primary commodities were subject to government direction, he said.

"But no democratic government is strong enough to assume the role of arbitrator between different groups of population on the subject of commodity prices," Taft said.

"Once the rule of economic law is wholly abandoned, and any administration undertakes to fix the price itself, it meets the angry dissatisfaction of both the producer and the consumer, and gives way to another weak government, whose tenure is equally short."

The "favorite son" candidate said the "purpose of the present national administration is so foreign to the whole genius of the American people, outside of a few centers of radicalism, that there will be no doubt as to the outcome of the election if the real issue can be brought home to the voters."

He is scheduled to speak in Youngstown and Uhrichsville today.

PHYSICIANS OPPOSE NEW HOSPITAL PLAN

ent arrangement. They expressed dissatisfaction that the mayor had not taken the matter up with the academy or at least the hospital advisory board, which he names, before the changes were voted by council.

"Two criticisms possibly can be made by members of the academy of the action taken in regard to the hospital," Mayor Smith said. "First, that the medical profession as a body was not consulted, and second, that members of the profession are satisfied with the present arrangement and do not want a change." He said that while he had not consulted the academy as a body he had discussed the matter with individual members and found them agreeable to the change.

"No Head" Mayor Says

"We have a strange situation here," the mayor continued. "We have a hospital without a head. Under the present arrangement responsibility for conduct of the hospital is divided between the superintendent-manager and the supervisor of nurses. I believe we should have a superintendent who knows something about the care of sick people, one who has had training and experience in this line of work."

Mayor Smith expressed doubt that the City hospital was being operated as efficiently as possible under the present set-up. "I have gone into the matter and know whereof I speak," he said.

He questioned the advisability of such an arrangement for a hospital the size of the one here, declaring it is too small to support the two positions. "The set-up was wrong in the first place and never should have been made," he declared.

Refers To Pledge

Mayor Smith reminded the physicians that in his campaign he promised to improve the City hospital. "I still propose to do that," he said, "and when I say improve I mean improve. If I did not think the new arrangement would be an improvement I would not have recommended it.

"I want to say frankly that I will not use my influence to have council repeal its action of Monday night. I think the new plan is for the best interests of the hospital and I am going ahead with it. So long as I am paying out money from my own pocket for improvement of the hospital, as I am doing, I believe there can be no criticism of my action from a selfish standpoint.

"This administration has a definite view of taking the hospital out of politics and improving its operation. All that I have to say about the present set-up is that it is an injustice to the patients who come here for the simple reason that the person in charge should know something of their needs when they arrive.

"Now gentlemen you may take any action you wish but I intend to go ahead with the improvement of this hospital and I ask your cooperation in doing that."

Dr. J. G. McNamara, who proposed the resolution, answering Mayor Smith's statement, said, "I want it known that there is nothing personal in my position, but I do have this one criticism of the change made in the hospital management." Addressing Mayor Smith, he said, "You said you wanted cooperation, yet you go out of town and get a new superintendent without consulting the medical profession. I think they should have been consulted and perhaps there was some one in Marion who could have filled the job."

In answer Mayor Smith said, "I want to say to you gentlemen I am frankly sorry I didn't consult you more about this. Apparently I have misjudged your attitude in assuming that you felt about the matter as I did."

Dr. T. H. Sutherland expressed the opinion that as long as the city safety director has control of the hospital it will remain in politics. "The only way to remove it from politics is to turn its operation over to a non-partisan board. If council wants the hospital out of politics a remedy would be to petition the state legislature for laws to create such a board."

Biggert Backs Mayor

D. P. Biggert, Fourth ward councilman, told members of the academy that as a member of council he was in accord with Mayor Smith's program.

Dr. John A. McNamara said there are two sides to the question as he saw it, and that he believes council should have studied both before taking its action.

Dr. F. V. Murphy said: "I believe as mayor Dr. Smith has accomplished a great many good things, but I can't agree with him on this point. I think the hospital should have a manager. We shouldn't expect one person to take all the responsibility. I don't believe there is a doctor here who will not say that the hospital has been operated better in the last six months than ever before. I believe council has been too hasty in its action, as this is a vital matter. In the past we have had this hospital turned upside down and here it is again. There is plenty of work here for two people and I don't believe we need to go out of the state to get some one for the job."

Dr. Frederick G. Smith, son of Mayor Smith, spoke in defense of the change. "I don't know whether all the doctors are satisfied with the hospital or not, but I imagine there are some who would like to see some improvements here. We now have an opportunity to get them and I think we should consider our action carefully before we turn them down."

FIRESTONE MEN TO MEET HERE TONIGHT

Firestone tire dealers from Marion and Morrow counties will hold their annual sales meeting tonight at the Hotel Harding. S. E. Willingham, district manager and red Kuhlke, truck and bus service manager, both of Columbus, will address the group.

A motion picture film depicting proper merchandising methods will be shown. Roy Carlson, manager of the Firestone store at 273-283 East Center street, is in charge of arrangements.

GET UP AT NIGHT?

THE kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in taking out the poisons from the system. A diuretic stimulant such as Dr. Pierce's A-nuric is often indicated and usually it is sufficient to relieve minor kidney irregularities. Read what Green B. Stephens of 1429 Paoli Ave., Route 4, Hamilton, Ohio, says: "Dr. Pierce's A-nuric Tablets are good enough for me. I would have to get up five or six times at night and my kidneys caused me much annoyance during the day too. I felt tired and draggy and would get dizzy spells. Dr. Pierce's A-nuric Tablets put an end to these unpleasant symptoms. I have more pep, too, and no more dizzy spells." Buy now! 65c.

QUINTUPLETS BORN TO RUMANIAN GYPSY

Two Boys and Three Girls Reported Living but Premature and Small.

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 15—Reports of a birth of quintuplets—two boys and three girls—to a Gypsy, Maria Ljnguraru, 25 years old, came today from the village of Hodos in the Bihor district of Transylvania.

The five children were described as living but born two months prematurely, extremely small and with abnormal features.

Superstitious villagers became excited at the birth, the reports from Hodos said, and took the mother and her babies to Oradea, the nearest larger center.

* * *

Authentic medical records disclose that only the Dionne quintuplets, born May 28, 1934, to Mrs. Oliva Dionne at Callander, Ont., have lived more than an exceedingly brief span.

Of 30 cases authenticated by the American Medical association as having occurred over a period of 500 years, none except the Dionnes lived more than 50 minutes.

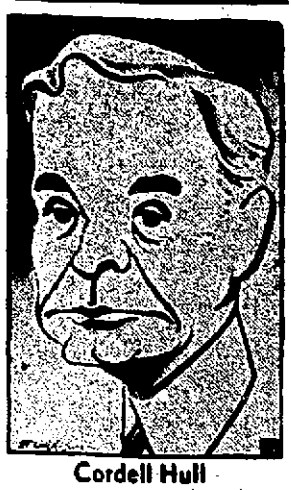
ON THE POLITICAL FRONT



Cordell Hull

By The Associated Press

Seldom does a secretary of state enter the rough-and-tumble of a national campaign. But this year's political wars are likely to include some speeches from the tall and handsome Tennessean, Secretary of State Corwell Hull.

If his trade treaties run onto the shoals of Republican vituperation, Hull will be drafted to explain them. He is a life-long specialist on tariffs. His apprenticeship in the house and his post-graduate days in the senate found him expounding the subject, hitting at either foreign or domestic policies he thought might clog the channels of trade. The saying is there is no one in congress today who has not heard "Hull on the tariff."

He speaks in a convincing manner that inspires respect, and he enjoys debate as much as unchallenged exposition, tearing his opponent's argument apart in a cool, gentlemanly but business like fashion.

Program Presented by Agosta Future Farmers.

A playlet, "Monkey Business in the Doctor's Office," was a feature of a program given by the boys of the Agosta Future Farmers of America chapter at a meeting of Montgomery grange last night at DeCliff. L. C. Woods, vocational agriculture instructor in Agosta, gave a short talk. The F. F. A. orchestra played several selections. Billy Johnson played accordion numbers and Clifton Imbody gave a reading. Refreshments were served. Guests were present from Salt Rock and Mt. Olive granges.

Members will exchange seeds and bulbs at the next meeting, April 28, at which time the program will be in charge of the master and lecturer. Arrangements were made for a rural life Sunday program in the near future and for organizing of a grange chorus under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Prettyman. A meeting of Pomona grange May 2 at Caledonia was announced.

Golden Rain

by Margaret Widdemer

Synopsis: Iris Lanning, greatly loved in a Pennsylvania small town atmosphere, has become a great success with the people who matter in New York, thanks to Phina's money and her own charm. She is even engaged to Allan Hewlett, whose grandmother, Mrs. Morgan, is the ruling member of the true inner set. Somehow Mrs. Morgan has asked Iris and Mrs. Morgan to her house, for an unannounced purpose. And Allan has been told to take her there.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE
Plain Speech

Allan [illegible] red duly in the blue [illegible] he said. "You set [illegible] drive to the moon [illegible] we've finished with [illegible]

"Am I [illegible] you say," she returned [illegible] to that. I know a [illegible] moons," said he [illegible] Perhaps they were at their [illegible]

It was an [illegible] pretentious authentic [illegible] behind a white [illegible] Peaceful, humane [illegible] ing her of home. She [illegible] your Granny's said [illegible] like Persia!"

[illegible] Granny," stiffly from a [illegible] bedful of [illegible] came forward in a [illegible] sack to greet her. [illegible] Mrs. Morgan, very [illegible] were sending a little [illegible] in the attic, said, [illegible] Allan, my dear, there are some [illegible] Paper upstairs in your grandfather's study that I wish you'd go over. I'll entertain Miss Lanning while you're gone."

Allan, lifting a lazy eyebrow, smiled and went. "How long do you want them to keep me there?" he inquired as he passed the door.

"Half an hour," said his grandmother, as coolly. She smiled reassuringly as she turned to Iris, but rose the less she got down to business.

"That rather dreadful young woman, Georgia Blair, was here this morning. I have to see more or less of her, as she is on the membership committee of our branch of the Junior League, and her mother and I are on various other committees together.

"It's no secret to you that she would rather you weren't a member of the League, or took part in the Anna Lispenard concert—I believe they are calling it a revue this year. I am a judge of human nature to rather more of an extent than any girl in her twenties.

"I credit you with honesty, breeding and ancestry, as well as your more patent qualities; prettiness and a singing voice and good clothes are easy enough to come by. They interest Allan, naturally, more than the others," said the old lady quietly, while Iris colored high.

"But why do you tell me this?" she asked as quietly, when Mrs. Morgan paused.

"I believe in plain speaking. I have hoped for a long time that such a girl as you existed, and that my only remaining grandson would find and be attracted by her. I have said all this to you because I want to ask for your word of honor that you haven't deceived me about yourself or yours in any way."

This amazing old lady stopped talking.

Iris pulled herself together and answered with dignity.

"Certainly I give you my word of honor. There's nothing to know about me. I haven't been outside the place where I was born, except to go to Philadelphia, a few miles away, since I was born. Your relative, Mrs. Cadwallader, could tell you all about us Lannings."

She rose to go. Mrs. Morgan threw a strong arm around her.

"My child, you mustn't be offended. I'm your friend, and I always hope to be." She kissed her, and Iris, realizing that what she said was true, returned the kiss.

"Did you make a hit with Granny?" said Allan, as they got into the car. "You must be an animal charmer. And now, what about the moon?"

Things were relaxed and delightful again.

"Where are you going to take me?"

"Anywhere you say, you good little sport."

But the end was something neither of them had foreseen—the encounter at a service station of Dicky and three other of their friends, vociferous over a broken car and appropriating a ride home. Only, as she was dropped at her own door, Allan whispered "Postponed only!" And she nodded.

Next day was one of Camilla's fencing days. It coincided again with one of Owen's days at home, but Iris hoped it wouldn't matter. They were dressed after their swim when one of the maids rapped on the bathhouse door.

"A young person with the costumes from Madame Phina's," she said.

"Oh, bother. I'll have to see her. Phina's golfing," Iris said.

"All right," Camilla said. "I'll wait for you under the striped umbrella."

"In the housekeeper's room," said the maid. Iris entered. And there sat a small stiff figure in errand-girl black. Sigrid, with a devil in her eye.

"Why on earth are you waiting here—and what are you dressed like that for?" Iris demanded.

Sigrid lifted a face which Iris saw was deadly angry.

"Madame Phina sends me to bring down pageant costumes. I come, properly dressed, to the proper room. When Miss Iris has seen the costumes," Sigrid went on stiffly, "I would be glad if she would ask the young master if I might speak to him. I have something to tell him."

"I have something to tell you, you idiot! Owen's breaking his heart. You're tormenting him to death!"

"And what about me?" She glared at Iris. "Owen talks about gratitude and duty, and all the while he's getting deeper tangled in this life Phina's playing for, with the two of you for pawns. And what do I count, what do I matter?"

"But he loves you and wants to marry you."

"Then he has to break with Phina. This is a showdown. Send for him."

• • •

Iris rang; she sent a maid for Owen. Meanwhile she tried to reason with Sigrid.

"If you love him, why don't you marry him and let him go on doing what he considers his duty to Phina? I think the trouble is you don't trust Owen."

"Trust a man? If you still believe in trusting men you don't know what trouble is; you won't know till whoever it is lets you down. I know. I was married and divorced when I was 19. A gentleman who met me across a glove counter, and then let his family divorce and buy me off. Where did you think I got the money to buy into Phina's?"

Owen stood in the doorway. She turned on him, icy angry again.

"Owen, I know you will be glad to hear of any good luck that has happened to me. I have an offer to go to Paris, very advantageous. I am selling out at Madam Phina's. I sail next Monday. We are through, you and I."

"Sigrid—" He caught her in his arms, he bent down over her. Iris slipped away—her last glimpse was Sigrid moving from his arms with a cold finality, and beginning to speak.

Camilla looked keenly at Iris. She laid a big shapely brown hand over Iris's ivory long-fingered one.

"You've been wonderful to me, Iris. I shan't forget it. You know, Iris, you're real, no matter what Georgia says. Oh, do be careful of Georgia!"

"Why, what else could I be?" Iris said gayly. "As for Georgia, I am as careful as I can be. But I have to see her along with the rest."

Before Camilla's slow voice had begun to answer, Owen was there, standing above the two girls. He was as white as a ghost; he was as angry as Sigrid had been; he spoke to his sister in a voice she had never heard from him.

"You and Phina have succeeded. I see you have Camilla here. You would."

Camilla looked up at him, a little hurt and frightened.

"Am I in the way, Owen? I was going in a minute—" she said meekly.

"No, you're just where you should be." He stood before the two girls, his stern, sensitive young face tight-lipped. "Camilla, will you marry me?"

Camilla never saw his bitterness. She lifted her face to his. It looked as if heaven were shining on it. In that moment she was beautiful. "Why, Owen—Owen, I didn't think you cared—" she put her hand out to him. Iris sprang up and ran.

In the days that followed Camilla bloomed. The engagement had, by Phina's insistence—and doing—instantly been made public. Iris was afraid Owen blamed her for this too; the only blot on those triumphant days was her brother's attitude of detached civility, instead of the warm affection he had given her before. To Camilla he was efficient, courteous, no more.

Iris enters the most bitter scene of her life, tomorrow.

MODERN HUSBANDS.

The old-fashioned husband has always been handed all the bouquets; and most of the time he rated them. He was the good provider, who came home promptly to dinner, paid all the bills, kept up the insurance, mowed the lawn, took care of the furnace and devoted himself to his own wife.

The symbol of peace, security and domestic virtue!

The modern husband may be less authentic, but he has his good points—especially in the eyes of the modern woman.

He may not put a woman on a pedestal and pretend to worship her before marriage—but neither does he try to use her as a footstool after marriage. Not if he's wise!

He may not shine quite so conspicuously as a "provider"—but neither does he regard his house as his castle nor his spouse as his vassal and himself as a dictator.

He may not always come home promptly to dinner, if he's a golfer—but he does not regard breakfast as a sacred rite or demand that the whole family gather around and watch him read his newspaper. Indeed, if necessity arises, he can arise, too, and make his own coffee and find his own newspaper. He has no top-lofty notions about "woman's work" or "woman's place."

He may know that he has the "legal right" to open his wife's letters; but he also knows that he has the legal right to step on a hornet's nest. So he respects her individual rights. Safety, first!

He may be a golf-bug who leaves his wife a widow on Saturdays—but he does not hang around the house all Sunday morning acting as an efficiency expert and trying to reform the domestic regime.

He may not coddle his wife—but neither does he try to police her. He would not dream of censoring her complexion, forbidding her to use a lipstick, denying her a cigaret or interfering with the chromatic changes of her hair.

He may not agree with his wife's political opinion—but he does not pose as an oracle, bubbling over with "good advice" and dropping pearls of wisdom and gems of thought. He lets her have her say.

He may go into the silence behind his newspaper at meal-times—but he doesn't glower or raise a storm when the steak is burnt or when she rustles up a dinner out of a can. In fact, he is delicatessen-broken.

He may not be as dependable or even as tender and chivalrous as the standardized old-fashioned husband—but he is lots more companionable, understandable and chummy.

Oh yes, modern husbands have their good points, even though they do seem mostly virtues of omission.

The old standard model husband may have been more reliable; but the new sport-model is more clubby and easier to manage. And most of them are guaranteed to last for at least five years!

Spanked and Comforted.

Maj Gen Johnson Hagood who looks more like a stray brain truster than a soldier has helped involuntarily to make a political incident Relieved of his command in the eighth corps area because he talked out of turn about work relief Gen Hagood commanded the sympathy of administration critics But now it is announced that the general has been given command of the sixth corps area Why?

It would seem that if he needed to be displined he shouldn't be reinstated in the same capacity On the other hand if Gen Hagood didn't need to be disciplined he shouldn't have been removed from the eighth corps area command in the first place Lacking more conclusive evidence the public will assume that for some reason or other the general was spanked than comforted

Another assumption will be that high officials within the government once more have acted in haste and repented at leisure The Hagood incident was disturbing when it appeared merely that a man with a long and honorable record in the army was chastised for spanking his mind and offending certain sensitive souls who don't like criticism, unless they are the critics It is doubly disturbing now, because it appears that another outburst of criticism has caused important officials to try to cover up an ill advised action The Hagood 'incident in other words is getting more instead of less complex

Probably Too Soon.

Curiosity as to the identity of the Republican candidate for president has not extended yet to the identity of the candidate for vice president The selection of the second man on the ticket will be determined, of course on a basis of geography If a westerner gets first place an easterner will get the consolation prize

The Republican party however has an added complication this year The League for Women for President and Other Public Offices with headquarters in New York City, says it is going to name a woman for vice president Since the Democrats have John N Garner the job of choosing a woman seems to belong to the Republicans

Strangely there is no sign that they are doing anything about it—strangely because women cast almost half the votes in a presidential election and a woman as vice presidential candidate theoretically would carry the feminine vote It would seem therefore that the minority party should be considering some political coup to off set the Roosevelt appointment of Miss Perkins as secretary of labor

Or is it possible that G O P strategists who probably have canvassed all the possibilities of gaining favor, feel that it is too soon to draw favorable conclusions from the new deal's experiments with the feminine influence in government? The League for Women for President and Other Public Offices will have to be patient while male politicians decide how far they dare to go in abandoning their office holding prerogatives

The Alien Problem

The federal government is again considering doing something about the alien problem With so many citizens clamoring for settlement of the issues to which the criminal and indigent elements of our alien population give rise something apparently had to be done The senate immigration committee has favorably reported a bill which would legalize the status of certain aliens who entered the country illegally and would compel deportation of those convicted of specified types of crime

In its present state the bill does not touch upon the problem of aliens on relief or suggestions made for deporting them but perhaps it is well advised not to arouse that international hornets nest at this time It does however give clearer definition to the types of criminal and immoral persons who may be subject to deportation while establishing a routine for such action and appeals from decisions

More important perhaps are provisions under which certain non-criminal aliens can legalize their status 'Hardship cases in which families have been separated by deportation would be covered as would the plight of the law abiding but illegally entered alien who wishes to remain in the country and take out citizenship papers

Some will wonder with Sen Austin only committee member dissenting whether the wide discretionary powers needed to administer this law should be left to representatives of the departments of labor justice and state since bureaucracy does have its weaknesses. If this difficulty can be circumvented, the alien problem may yield finally to a legislative solution

Issue In The Making.

Beneath the foam and fury of discussion, a relief issue is developing Public opinion is dividing between the existing policy of federal work relief and a revised system of locally administered direct relief

The Roosevelt administration has tried direct relief and work relief, both under federal direction It abandoned direct relief in favor of work relief and apparently is going to defend the latter against all suggestions for revision

Opponents take the position that the cost of work relief administered by the federal government is too high and could be reduced by returning administrative responsibility to the states It is claimed that waste could be eliminated thereby

Those who challenge the work relief system being defended by the Roosevelt administration are not all of one party The issue may become partisan however due to the administration's defense of the WPA concept of relief

That would be unfortunate The United States undertook relief administration on a large scale without benefit of experience Under the Hoover administration it stuck by the principle of local responsibility Under the Roosevelt administration it experimented with federal responsibility Relief is not properly a partisan question

The issue now taking definitive form is proof that the present system falls short of being satisfactory Previously it was obvious that the Hoover method was unsatisfactory The experiment will continue Best thought on the matter seems to be inclining toward a combination of the good features of both methods—local responsibility and federal appropriations allocated to states on a basis of need

No Apology Necessary.

It is true that a great deal of money is made out of the fact that Americans think baseball is a grand game and are willing to pay high prices to watch contests between professional teams

It is true that popular interest in baseball is exploited in virtually every possible way and that professional ball players come close to being big business men Baseball in short is intensively commercialized entertainment

That does not alter the fact that it is good entertainment Neither does it alter the fact that it is entertainment which seems to be good for the people who support it with their money and enthusiasm If it seems strange to Europeans for instance that Americans frequently respond more enthusiastically to the cry of Play ball! than to the exhortations of their political leaders it must be due to a different way of thinking which Europeans can not understand

Americans no doubt are fortunate in having fewer causes to worry about such grave matters as sanctions and wars than Europeans have But might it be that they have fewer causes to worry about those things because they prefer to do so much worrying about the prospects of their favorite ball team and the condition of a star pitcher's arm?

However that may be, the baseball season has opened For the next five months victories and losses on the diamond will compete with victories and losses in statesmanship politics and militarism for American attention Somehow no apology seems necessary

James M. Beck.

In many cases political veterans are more distinguished for their length of service than for its excellence James M Beck who died Easter Sunday at the age of 75 was one veteran of politics who didn't need to point to his age to win respect.

His death in fact was a distinct shock to many of his countrymen who had concluded from the evidence of his activity that he was a much younger man As a lawyer as a politician as an orator as an appointed official and as a philosopher Mr Beck had been a familiar figure in the news for a third of a century

He earned and preserved the title of constitutional authority by his unusual knowledge of the constitution and his keen arguments and writings Like all men who think he encountered both opposition and agreement and made opponents as well as friends But like all men who distinguish themselves by extraordinary deeds, Mr Beck did not lack courage to follow his own bent Thus it is not surprising to discover that his opponents freely are joining his friends in showing genuine respect for him in death That is the reward for courageous independence — respect. Fortunately not always does it wait on death for bestowal

Names Make News.

It was news the close of last week when Allan Hoover son of former President Hoover declared he had received a $4 800 AAA payment as part owner of a cotton ranch A few days previously it was news when Alfred E Smith's son was disclosed to be interested in a plan for promotion of lotteries The activities of President Roosevelt's sons have been news many times in the last three years Why?

Names make news and political prominence is a powerful factor in making names. There does not seem to be anything to do about it but doubtlessly many a son of a prominent man has shared with his father the wish that it were not so Maybe the sons with a little help from their fathers could form a protective association to keep out of the news They could organize a colony somewhere in the deep woods and keep out of sight and that would be real news Apparently there's nothing to do but [illegible]

U.S. Treasury Deficit Exceeds 1935

Slowing Up of Public Debt Increase Does Not Come to Expectations of President Roosevelt.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1936, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON April 15—With only 20 days left in the present fiscal year, which ends on June 30 the condition of the treasury is not in accord with expectations. President Roosevelt's promise that this year the deficit would, by comparison with last year, show a drop has not been realized.

If recovery is here or on the way the official figures of the treasury's condition show a puzzling increase in expenses instead of a diminution

Thus, using round numbers here is the way the treasury stands

1 Expenses are $5,540 000 000 as compared with $5,238 000 000 just a year ago

2 Receipts are $3 199,000,000 as compared with $2,980 000 000

Thus the government is taking in about $219 000 000 more than it did a year ago but it is spending $308,000 000 more than it did a year ago So it is running behind its year ago situation by about $90 000 000 This is reflected in the official figures for the deficit now as compared with a year ago Here it is

Deficit a year ago $2 258,000 000.
Deficit this year $2,347 000 000

* * *

Since the government is running behind last year with increasing speed and since the bulk of the revenue payments on income taxes have already come in the chances are the deficit will run over $3 000,000 000 for the present fiscal year and if it finally does show up a bit behind last year the difference will be relatively small The fact remains that the United States government for four successive years will have had deficits in excess of $3 000 000 000

The public debt figure is the most disappointing of all It is now at $31 437 000 000 as compared with $28 863 000 000 a year ago

This is larger than the President anticipated in his budget message when he said that the federal deficit would be $31-351 000 000 by July 1 1937 So the federal treasury is way behind its own official predictions

The public debt figures do not of course include the contingent liabilities that is the securities issued which are guaranteed either as to interest or principal or both by the federal government That's another $4 500 000 000

The worst aspect of the federal figures is that the Reconstruction Finance corporation is no longer a drain on the treasury but is actually pouring in money out of repayments from the railroads and the banks Also the public works administration is not causing much of a drain as it too is using a revolving fund

The real crux of the difficulty is the way the WPA or workers progress administration expense is climbing up It is running at the average of about $45 000 000 a week Those expenses since last November have been about $744 000 000 The WPA is far more expensive than direct relief in fact almost twice as heavy

* * *

Another evidence of the fact that business is getting better is that the receipts from customs duties are $803 000 000 as compared with $285 000 000 a year ago But all these improvements which reflect increased receipts are more than offset by the heavy expenses the federal government is incurring

It may be of course that after the election the new deal will begin sharply to curtail its outlay To diminish the spending now it is feared might interfere with the new deals opportunity for victory in November Once that victory is achieved however, there will be a sharp tapering off all along the line This will be compelled by reason of the rapid rate of rise in the public debt If not by the public sentiment for economy that probably will be built up in the campaign itself

Now the figures given in the above paragraphs do not in any way include the soldiers bonus which will not be disbursed until after July 1 As for the AAA the treasury always kept processing tax collections ahead of payments to farmers and when the AAA was declared invalid this situation was reversed and it did cut down on receipts But on the other hand the payments to farmers are about the same as they were last year and still the expenses of the government as a whole are higher than a year ago

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday April 15 1926

Safe crackers broke into the office of the King Lumber Co at Uncapher avenue and Columbia street and after completely wrecking the safe got less than a dollar in small change and a few stamps

Subpoenaes in padlock proceedings were served on 62 night clubs and cabarets in New York City by prohibition agents It was the fourth and largest prohibition enforcement drive under the direction of the United States Attorney Emory R Buckner

Improvements costing approximately $7 000 were under way at the Hornell Ice & Cold Storage plant here in preparation for the summer's business

Mr and Mrs William L Morral of South State street arrived home from a five-months' visit in Los Angeles

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight.

BY JAY G. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON April 15—The Republican brain trust is going to be a big help but it is not yet clear to whom

The first born brain child offered by one of the new appointees to an old line politico informally a few days back has caused inner apprehensions

Said the new Republican brain truster to the old line Republican politician

I've been thinking about this thing and it seems to me our trouble is that our men in congress are not on their feet enough The Republican congressmen do not debate enough I think we should pick out a few of our best men up there and prime them

The politician I think you have something there Whom do you have in mind?

The R B T Well what about this fellow Tydings?

As all sensitive persons in Washington have known for years Mr Tydings is the able Democratic senator from Maryland who has been on his feet considerably lately praising President Roosevelt.

Portent?

Nary a flicker of laughter or disdain showed on the frozen face of the politician as he responded

You're absolutely right What you ought to do is to get Tydings on his feet along with Joe Robinson Pat Harrison and the rest of our good men in congress

The R B T was pleased and indicated he would take the matter up at the first meeting but by that time the politician was outside doubled up in a paroxysm He now fears that the R B T will absently mindedly elect Prof Tugwell as chairman at that first meeting

Influence

President Roosevelt's first regret upon his return from his fishing trip was that he had not taken Messrs Ickes and Hopkins with him this time.

Behind their fusade now again being widely advertised is a personal feeling engendered by the fancy lobbying activities of Mr Ickes for PWA funds in congress

Mr Ickes did not have to take six congressmen out to live with him as the power lobbyist did Nor did he have to sit outside in the senate lobby sending in his cards to senators whom he wished to influence As a cabinet officer he has the privilege of the senate floor although it may be related that he never abused it by buttonholing senators at their desks publicly in the presence of the galleries

What he did was to go right into the sanctum sanctorum of the senate marble room the library which no outsider is permitted to invade Seeing him there *so frequently of late some sen*ators have commented among themselves and one Republican *senator started a personal investi*gation to find out what Mr Ickes was doing to influence congress into voting PWA expenditures

The only answer he was able to get from Mr Ickes friends was that the cabinet officer was promoting a bill to change the name of the Interior department

Pets

Sanatorial authorities believe Mr Ickes has been furnishing senators with all the data they have been using lately about progress of certain PWA projects They say he even has a senate leader of his own a midwestern Democratic senator who is champion*ing his cause*

The reason his cause is popular in congress is because congress*men had a lot of pet projects* which were not even good enough to be approved under PWA They think they may get money for these if a new PWA is set up Also they are spreading the word that if their projects had been started under PWA there would have been no floods this spring

It is difficult to put down such pork barrel rushes in congress in an election season

Joke

It may have been told before but at a public meeting here some time back both Secretaries Wallace and Ickes were on the program for speeches Agriculture's Wallace arose and read a prepared speech No one noticed anything wrong with it Interior's Ickes then got up and cast aside his prepared speech saying Ghosts walk up and down the Interior building leaving things like this speech on my desk but I am not going to make the same mistake as Mr Wallace who preceded me

Then it was discovered that *Wallace had read aloud the fol*lowing line of parenthetical instruction written into his speech by his ghost writer Insert joke here to relieve monotony

Raiding

Government department heads are complaining that the new social security organization is conducting raids on their employes Social security is under civil service but instead of bringing in new people its personnel men are soliciting good clerks from other departments offering higher rating and more money Apparently the new deal is not even safe from itself

Health

Mr Roosevelt looked better this time upon returning from his fishing vacation than he has on previous occasions The rest was even more beneficial than the published photos indicated

(Copyright 1936 by Paul Mallon)

The Free State Government will *offer $5 150 000 for the relief of lo*cal taxes on agricultural land

TODAY—Work Should Stop with Death, Not at 65

President Roosevelt, in another "opening speech of the 1936 campaign addressing 20 000 young Democrats of Baltimore and the nation on the radio suggested that youth should begin work at 18 and old age" stop work at 65

Youth should have its fun in years at least for exercise and happiness Sixty five might be a good age to stop dull routine work for wages but no man would want to stop real work until death except that six months to walk around this side of the grave might be acceptable Goethe finished the second part of "Faust" when he was past 72 and one of the ablest French writers starting a new prose style wrote nothing until at 86 he wrote the life of St Louis at the request of the king's widow Within half a century 25 years have been added to the average lives of old men nobody would want those years wasted

Fine Women's Faces

For your own enlightenment you should see the photograph of five intelligent American women two elected to the municipal council the other three elected mayor treasurer secretary of Green Top Mo They decided that their community needed better government and at the recent election defeated 18 men

See the faces of the five notorious American ladies Mrs Lloyd Beck Mrs Bryan Arnold Mrs John Young Mrs Ira Pearce Mrs C H Van Oadol then try to find any five masculine city officials with as much intelligence character and integrity in the faces

No Perfect Crime

In the murder of an unfortunate young woman New York detectives think they see almost the perfect crime one in which the perpetrator cannot be identified

Fortunately there is no perfect crime except in the imagination of the criminal or the detective story writer because criminals are dull cannot keep their mouths shut are vain boast and the electric chair gets them Also they jump when a hand is laid on the shoulder that helps detectives and criminals are betrayed by fellow criminals

Airplanes Makes Difference

England decides against any military sanctions as regards Italy She will not close the Suez canal destroying Italian communication with Ethiopia.

Conditions have changed since the airplane came

Italy menaces the water supply of the Sudan and Egypt

A few years ago that would have been a simple problem England controlling the Mediterranean with Gibraltar would have sent her super dreadnaughts to convince Italy that she had made a mistake and Italy probably would have been convinced

Now Gibraltar the Dardanelles and the super-dreadnaughts mean little If England fired a gun at Mussolini he would send a thousand planes with explosive and gas bombs to London That situation calls for caution

Poison Gas Age

Bishop Stewart Episcopalian of Chicago thinks immortality may be limited Only those who have a definite relationship to God through the spiritual life may be eligible for immortality and other souls cease to exist upon death

This important suggestion of a celestial four hundred will appeal to many that might not care to meet in heaven the cave man with low forehead protruding jaw the bushman with a vocabulary of 150 words or all the repentant thieves murderers and trust magnates

It is conceivable that selection of the celestial few might be postponed a few million years until real civilization shall have begun. This is the poison gas age

This Is News

This is news because it never happened before During Easter service in St Paul's Cathedral in London a young woman 25 in a cloak wrapped about her walked to the altar steps sank to her knees with arms outstretched threw aside the cloak and was seen to be entirely naked

The unfortunate creature doubtless insane was covered and removed as soon as spectators stunned, had recovered their senses

An earthquake or tornado reminds you of the safety with which nature manages as a whole and this sad incident reminds you of the general good behavior of human beings in spite of their many worries and emotions

Before bolshevism came Moscow had 466 churches packed at Easter time This year only 28 of the churches were open and these were crowded with worshipers principally old people Russian experience seems to justify Samuel Johnson's statement that religion would lose its force if no kept alive by regular observance of forms and ceremonies

But the present so-called "atheistic control of Russia will find that men will not live forever content with the teachings of Karl Marx and the mystery of Lenin They will ask as their ancestors did "How did I get here where am I going what happens when I die?" Then religion will start again, perhaps not in the Greek church but religion

205,000 Fans See Major Leagues Launch 1936 Season

LARGEST FIRST-DAY CROWD IN 5 YEARS; 55,590 AT NEW YORK

Cleveland Indians Drop Game to Tigers; Red Lose to Pirates.

By The Associated Press

The long trek down summer's baseball lane was under way today with the batsmen marching triumphantly at the head of the procession

The sun came down like a benediction yesterday after rainy April weather that had disrupted spring training schedules and the baseball faithful thronged eight major league ball parks to see America's national pastime ushered in with fanfare and the crash of numerous base hits

With President Roosevelt throwing out the first ball at Washington and Babe Ruth the retired sultan of swat sitting on the sidelines for the first time in many a year some 205 000 fans the largest aggregate crowd in five years jammed into parks in the two major circuits

Largest Crowd at New York

The largest gathering was at the Polo Grounds in New York where 55 590 saw the Giants come from behind to defeat Brooklyn 8-5 Hal Schumacher retired to the showers before his mates riding on homers by Mel Ott and Dick Bartell overcame the efforts of George Earnshaw veteran Dodger hurler and went on to win in the late innings Earnshaw banged out two hits and batted in one run but he allowed a total of 17 clean hits

The closest game of the day was played in Washington where the Senators nosed out the New York Yankees 1 0 Buck Newsom of the Senators and Lefty Gomez of the Yanks put on a scoreless pitching duel until the ninth inning when Cecil Travis singled and Carl Reynolds slapped out a two bagger that decided the issue

In Cleveland Lynwood Rowe started the champion Detroit Tigers off on the right foot when he shut out the Cleveland Indians 3-0 before 18 200 He issued four hits fanned six and passed none as Hank Greenberg and Al Simmons took care of the batting chores Hank drove in two runs in the first inning with a double and Simmons newcomer to the Tiger lair drove in the third run with a double in the sixth

Dizzy Allows 14 Hits

Even Dizzy Dean had little to crow about His fancy offerings were plastered for 14 hits in six innings as the Cubs defeated the Cards 12-7 Dean wasn't the only one under fire in this game however for the Chicago ace Lon Warneke also had to duck as 13 hits rang off rival bats during his seven innings of service Billy Herman Cubs second baseman who led the league with 57 doubles last year banged out three besides getting a home run and a single

There were new murmurings around Boston about the shortstopping of Joe Cronin of the plough share jaw who booted two as his expensive Red Sox outslugged the lowly Athletics to gain a 9-4 verdict Connie Mack sent in four pitchers to stop the Sox assault but they were belted for 14 hits Another ace flinger was maltreated here Boston's Wes Ferrell being worked for ten hits and six passes

In Cincinnati it was Paul Derringer No 1 hurler for the Reds who was treated rudely The Pirates batted him from the box in the third inning and went on to win 8-6 Bud Hafey nephew of the retired Chick hammered out the first round trip blow of the season when he leaned on one in the first inning

It was a battle of extra base hits in Chicago where the White Sox defeated the St Louis Browns 7-6 Johnny Whitehead and Ivy Andrews were forced to abdicate the hill in this game as the Browns collected nine hits and the White Sox three more

The Phils took the first of what was expected to be a long series of falls out of the Boston Bees 4 1 as Curt Davis limited the Bostonians to four safe blows The Phillies made all of their runs off Danny Macfayden in the third

Altogether there was a total of 164 hits of which 12 were homers in the eight games

SOFTBALL SEASON TO BEGIN MAY 11

Cochrane Brings in First 1936 Run for Tigers

Mickey Cochrane catcher and manager of the Detroit Tigers had the honor of scoring the first run of the 1936 season for the world champions when he crossed the plate in the first inning of the opening game with the Cleveland Indians Frankie Pytlak Cleveland catcher is shown standing by as Cochrane comes in with the initial tally which started Detroit on the way to victory

Set Pace in Associated Press Hole-in-One Club.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—The sharpshooters from Texas led the way today as The Associated Press Hole-in-One club continued to spread across the land

Eighty-eight members now have been inducted into the club and they come from 26 states. Connecticut Louisiana Kentucky West Virginia Oklahoma Wyoming Oregon and Pennsylvania reported for the first time while down in Texas 10 more joined the fold to run the Lone Star state's enrollment up to 27

Robert P Cheaney who operates a beauty shop in Denver leads the field for distance having smacked one for 290 yards 15 yards farther than the previous record holder in this prospect, Grover Collier a Memphis railroader

POCKET BILLIARDS CHAMP TO PERFORM

George Kelly To Give Exhibition at Marion Billiard Parlor Friday Night.

George Kelly of Philadelphia, national pocket billiards champion will perform for Marion billiard enthusiasts Friday night at the Marion Billiard Parlor at 118 West Center street. The Pennsylvania Irishman comes here under the auspices of the National Billiard association in its third annual national Better Billiards program

He has competed in four world's pocket billiard championship tournaments He finished as runner up to Ralph Greenleaf in the 1932 event In the 1933 competition he finished in a four handed second place tie with Andrew Ponzi James Caras the present champ and Wee Willie Mosconi finally landing in third place when the smoke of the play offs had cleared Ponzi landing in second place with Caras fourth and Mosconi fifth

Kelly will devote one hour to free billiard instructions to both women and men in his two-hour exhibition specializing on the fundamentals of the game In addition to a demonstration of pocket billiards and a display of fancy shots

SUNDAY SCHOOL LOOP NO. 1 FIRST TO START

All Star Night League To Swing into Action Early in June

The cry "Play Ball" will echo throughout the city parks Monday May 11 to herald the start of the 1936 softball season That is the day set as the official start of the twilight season provided the weatherman is kind enough to furnish a suitable day The opening date was named today in an announcement made by Elmer Shaw secretary of the Marion Softball commission As in former years the first games are scheduled for the second week in May

Teams of the Sunday school league No 1 will have the honor of breaking open the gate to the new season Eight teams will go into action throughout the city in games at Lincoln Park Garfield Park the Presidents field and the Steam Shovel field

No 2 League Starts May 14

Sunday School league No 2 will open its season the following night Commercial league teams will get their first taste of competition on Thursday night May 14

The All Star Night league composed of six teams to play under the lights at Lincoln park will go into action early in June Each team will see action once a week with night games booked three times each week

Players who wish to take part in the night league schedule have already begun to register with Elmer Shaw at the Y M C A softball commission secretary A check of the files today by Mr Shaw revealed a shortage of umpires to handle the twilight and night games Any player manager team captain or prospective umpire is requested to leave names of possible candidates at the Y

Eligibility Rules

A brief resume of the eligibility rules were brought to the attention of players and managers in a brief statement issued today by Mr Shaw

It is necessary he said for regular players who participated in games last season to attend the Sunday school of the team with which they play for at least two Sundays in the month prior to the time they take the field Regular players must attend Sunday school twice during April to be eligible for the opening games in May while new players must attend three consecutive Sundays to be eligible to play in the Sunday school leagues he said

Members of the softball commission will meet tonight for a report in their drive to raise $2 000 to support a WPA project for erection of a $10 000 concrete stadium at Lincoln park The meeting will be held at the Y M C A at 7 30 o'clock

280 Amateur Boxers Seek A. A. U. Championship

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND O April 15—The amateur boxing talent of America—the boys who fight for fun instead of for funds—awaited the gong today

The gong sounding early tonight will send 280 battlers from all parts of the United States and Hawaii into action for the National A A U championships

Another reward in addition to the titles awaits the four semi finalists in each of the eight divisions The four survivors will qualify for the Olympic final tryouts at Chicago next month

The preliminaries will be staged in three separate rings with 140 rounds carded for tonight.

The entry list for the national is the largest in the event's history 33 of the 36 A. A. U districts being represented The last previous representation was 28 four years ago in New York.

Joe Louis of Detroit, Negro professional fighting sensation will be at the ringside.

BOWLING CONGRESS ENDS

INDIANAPOLIS April 15—The thirty sixth annual American Bowling Congress became a thing of the past today except for the final division of the $108 000 in prize money and the diamond ring of the 32 alleys Taking last places alongside of Falls City Bru of Indianapolis as 1936 title holders were Tony Slanina and Mike Straka of Chicago doubles kings Charles Warren of Springfield Ill singles champ and Johnny Murphy of Indianapolis head man in the all events The Falls City quintet won the team championship

Tim Tyler

By Lyman Young

WHERE'S THE CAPTAIN, TIM?
YOU'LL FIND HIM WALKING DOWN THE MAIN VILLAGE STREET, PATROLMAN SPENCER
...AND AS I WAS DRIVING THROUGH THE LIBANEL SECTOR I NOTICED SMOKE COMING FROM THE STACK OF FLINT HUNTER'S OLD CABIN
YUP
IT'S BEEN EMPTY SINCE PATROLMAN COOPER WAS MYSTERIOUSLY KILLED IN IT, CAPTAIN
HM- I WONDER IF TREBOR, OUR NEW PATROLMAN UP THERE, KNOWS THE PLACE IS AGAIN INHABITED?
I'M GOING TO SEND YOU LADS ON A DANGEROUS MISSION
WE'RE READY FOR IT, CAPTAIN

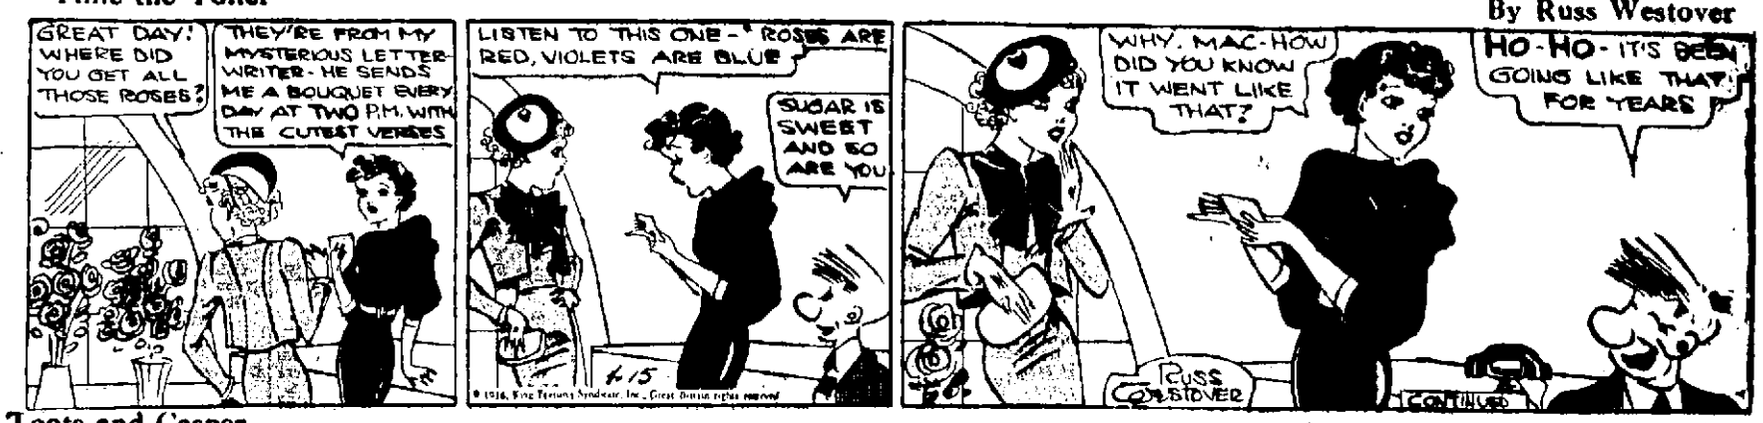
Thimble Theater

By Segar

CHIZZELFLINT WILL NEVER TELL YOU THE SECRET ABOUT THE JEEP
JUS'A SAME I YAM GO'NER SEE HIM
YOU LIED! I BELIEVE YOU READ MY NOTEBOOK! I'M GOING TO SHOOT YOU, MR. WIMPY!
YOU HAVE THE WRONG PARTY. JONES IS MY NAME-
AVAST, YA SWAB! LAY OFFA WIMPY!
I'M ONE OF THE JONES BOYS
HE TRIED TO HIRE ME TO COMMIT A MURDER
AN' I'M THE SUCKER HE WANTS KILLED- KEEP AWAY FROM HIM
I'D BET A MILLION THAT WIMPY READ MY NOTEBOOK- HE KNOWS ALL ABOUT THE POWER OF A JEEP- HE CAN MAKE A FORTUNE

Tillie the Toiler

By Russ Westover



GREAT DAY! WHERE DID YOU GET ALL THOSE ROSES?
THEY'RE FROM MY MYSTERIOUS LETTER-WRITER- HE SENDS ME A BOUQUET EVERY DAY AT TWO P.M. WITH THE CUTEST VERSES
LISTEN TO THIS ONE- "ROSES ARE RED, VIOLETS ARE BLUE"
SUGAR IS SWEET AND SO ARE YOU
WHY, MAC- HOW DID YOU KNOW IT WENT LIKE THAT?
HO-HO- IT'S BEEN GOING LIKE THAT FOR YEARS
RUSS WESTOVER

Toots and Casper

By Jimmie Murphy

OH, CASPER--- I LOVE YOU--- YOU'LL NEVER KNOW THE AGONY I WENT THROUGH WHILE YOU WERE GONE---
-- AND YOU'LL NEVER KNOW HOW TERRIBLE I FELT WHEN I THOUGHT YOU WERE GONNA LEAVE ME, TOOTS---
I'LL NEVER LEAVE YOU, DARLING--I WANT TO BE WITH YOU ALWAYS! KISS ME, CASPER!
PST, WAIT UNTIL I PULL DOWN THE SHADE TOOTS--SOMEBODY IS LOOKIN' AT US----
EVERYTHING HAPPENS FOR THE BEST--AND THAT TATTOO ON YOUR ARM WAS THE CAUSE OF US FINDING OUT HOW MUCH WE LOVE EACH OTHER.
TOOTS, I'M SO HAPPY I ALMOST THINK I'M ON MY SECOND HONEYMOON!

MAMA - MAMA - HERE COMES THAT NICE, LITTLE ROONEY GIRL AGAIN AN' SHE HAS A BASKET
MAY THE ANGELS BLESS YOUR KIND HEART.... I DON'T KNOW WHAT WE WOULD HAVE DONE WITHOUT YOUR HELP ... WITH THE CHILDREN TO FEED AND THEIR FATHER WALKING THE STREETS LOOKING FOR WORK
4-15
WELL, I GUESS IT WAS AWFUL TOUGH - BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO WORRY ANY MORE - 'CAUSE MR. BULLION GAVE YOUR HUSBAND A NICE STEADY JOB IN ONE OF HIS FACTORIES
TOM'S GOT A JOB? HOW CAN I EVER THANK YOU?
GEE, YOU DON'T HAVE TO THANK ME - IT WAS MR. BULLION THAT GAVE HIM THE JOB - AU- I DID WAS TELL MR. BULLION ABOUT HIM

I'LL GO MAD IF WE DON'T HEAR FROM OUR SON SOON- HE NEVER STAYED OUT LIKE THIS BEFORE-CALM YOURSELF, MAGGIE - I'LL CALL UP THE POLICE AN' HAVE THEM LOOK FOR HIM-
HELLO- IS THIS POLICE HEADQUARTERS? THIS IS MR. JIGGS- I WISH YOU'D LOOK FOR ME SON-
HUH- DON'T WORRY WE ARE LOOKING FOR HIM AN' HE WON'T GIT AWAY WHEN WE GIT OUR MITTS ON HIM-
4-15
YOU SHOULD WORRY NOW, MAGGIE - THE POLICE ARE LOOKIN' FOR HIM - YOUR WORRIES WILL START WHEN THEY FIND HIM-

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

FLATTERING FROCK HELPS YOU MAKE THE MOST OF LEISURE MOMENTS

Bound to be the Pride of Your Wardrobe — this dashing little frock with every detail and line planned to flatter. Any clever miss can run it up in a few leisure hours.

The cost will prove trifling, but the results will distinguish you in any circle! Aren't you already convinced that beryffled sleeves will be ever so much cooler than sleeves on a Summer's day? That circular, off-shoulder treatment is just about the last word in flattery, while the shirred bodice (done by machine or hand) is an easy and decorative detail you'll find additional trimming unnecessary. We suggest a fine sheer, voile or crepe.

Pattern 2770 is available in misses' sizes 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42. Size 16 takes 3¾ yards of 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly your address and style number desired. Be sure to state size.

Send for your copy of our Anne Adams pattern book! You'll like its skilled advice on the latest styles, its delightful patterns for misses and children. A book that's brimming with good ideas. Send for it today. Price of book 15 cents. Book and a pattern together, 25c.

The Gumps — By Gus Edson

THE WIDOW ZANDER, WHO ONCE MEANT EVERYTHING TO BIM, RETURNS!
HAPPINESS FORGETS THE HOURS, BUT SORROW COUNTS THE MINUTES- IT SEEMS CENTURIES SINCE I LAST SAW YOU, BIMBO-
I WONDER IF HENRIETTA KNOWS ABOUT MILLIE-
MY HUSBAND LEFT FOR AUSTRALIA ON A BUSINESS TRIP— HE WAS ON BOARD THE "MORONIC"—
OH BIMBO- I CAN UNDERSTAND HOW YOU MUST FEEL AT SEEING ME AGAIN- I, TOO, FEEL THAT WAY—
ER-YES HENRIETTA- YOU WERE SAYING?
